GANG OF DAYLIGHT THUGS. Alleged Leader of a Band of West Side Robbers Caught.

After more than three months' search the police think they have caught the leader of a gang of robbers that committed several crimes in daylight on the West Side last summer. The man gives the name of Thomas O'Brien and says his address is 422 East Twenty-second street. There is no such number. William P. Delaney, and William B. Elliott, 544 West Twenty-fifth street, identify him as one of a gang that robbed them last July. O'Brien is said by the police to have used the aliases of Costello and Cranner. He is a bartender and was arrested by Detectives Butler and Foley in the crowd on Sixth avenue on Saturday night.

When taken before Magistrate Barlow in the Jefferson Market police court yesterday morning he was held for examination on Wednesday afternoon.

Delaney and Elliott have adjoining stores on Twenty-fifth street, near Tenth avenue. Their story is that on the afternoon of July 10 they were sitting in front of their places of business when eight or ten men came up. Elliott was seized first, his arms and neck grasped by some of the men, and his pockets searched. The crowd then fell upon Delaney in the same way, taking $50 and his watch from him. He followed them as they ran away and saw he was stopped by O'Brien, who said: "I am a policeman. What is the matter?" Delaney paused to explain, and while he was talking a man crept from behind and knocked him senseless with a blackjack. When he regained consciousness his assailants had disappeared.

Fur Hats FOR THE Horse Show

Fur—and in front of all others, the petit gris, or the fur of the little gray squirrel—is the predominating feature of smartest Winter hats for women.

All the hats and hat news, that come from Paris, show the petit gris; but American tastes and requirements are more varied; so we also have hats superbly trimmed with mink and chinchilla, as well as foliage of various sorts.

At the moment, the Horse Show thought engages attention, and today we present a notable Wanamaker collection of Horse Show Millinery that all well-dressed women will want to see.

Another Offering of Men's SILK-LINED SUITS Made-to-Order

Two weeks ago we made a similar announcement to this, and the suits were taken before half of the men that wanted them got here.

We've been planning another offering for men who were disappointed before, and today have an excellent collection of fancy chevrons and neat worsteds, which we will make up in Sack Suits to order, and line the coats throughout with pure dye silk—

At $30 a Suit

The regular price is $40; and most tailors get still more for the same goods. These suits will be tailored in our handsomest manner, and a perfect fit guaranteed in every case, of course.

SILVER for Thanksgiving Day A Quarter to a Half Under-Price

Wanamaker's has become famous as the outlet for the surplus stocks of the best silverware makers.

This latest transaction occurs at a most opportune time—just two weeks before Thanksgiving Day, six weeks before Christmas.

Hundreds of good silverware stores all over the country will be showing the identical patterns in this offering among their proud holiday collections—and they deserve it. We bought them after the regular trade was over. The manufacturers were glad to clean up stocks at decisive sacrifices to us because we will sell the entire collection in a few days without disturbing their regular trade in the least.

For the brightening of your own Thanksgiving and Christmas tables, as well as the securing of beautiful gift-things at unusually little cost, this is one of the greatest pre-holiday opportunities of the season.

Here are the tempting facts in detail:

SALE OF BLACK VELVETS $1 Silk-face Black Velvets at 55c

We have secured twelve hundred pieces—nearly thirty thousand yards—of fine black Velvets that sell regularly at one dollar a yard, to sell at fifty-five cents a yard. And this is the greatest velvet season of recent years! The velvet street suit and skirt-waist suit are the smartest dresses to be worn this Winter—rich, warm, stylish, in the highest degree.

These are new and absolutely perfect Velvets, just received from the mills—real silk-face velvets; for less than the cost of velveteen.

A business change brings this extraordinary opportunity just when thousands of women are thinking of velvet suits.

55 Cents a Yard!

As these Velvets are far below wholesale prices, there will be many milliners, dressmakers, and people in the trade generally interested. For such or others who can use whole pieces, we quote a piece-price still lower:

Box, containing 19 to 20 1/2 yards, at $19.25, value $19 to $20.38.
Box, containing 22 to 22 1/2 yards, at $22, value $22 to $22.75.
Box, containing 25 to 24 yards, at $21.50, value $23 to $24.

Black Velvets are always of use in any family, so that many will be able to use entire pieces, which contain but little more than enough for a gown. Think of being able to buy material for a black velvet waist or blouse for $2.20!

JOHN WANAMAKER Broadway, Fourth Avenue, Ninth and Tenth Streets

TO COMMANDER MILLIGAN, U.S.N. Loving Cup Presented to the Chief Engineer of the Battleship Oregon.

The junior officers who served Commander Milligan of the navy before and during the battle of Santiago were chief engineers of the battleship Oregon. They have presented him with a handsome loving cup bearing the following inscription:

To Commander R. W. Milligan, U. S. Navy, Chief Engineer, U. S. S. Oregon. In appreciation of the great service rendered the navy and the nation by him while on board that vessel during the Spanish American War.

This token is a testimonial of the high courage, military regard, professional esteem and personal affection in which Commander Milligan is held by the junior officers of the Engineer Department who had the honor of serving under him before and during the battle of Santiago.

Potts-McAnerney Wedding Not Put Off. Invitations already issued to a wedding reception for Miss Florence C. McAnerney, daughter of John McAnerney of 20 West Forty-ninth street, who is to be married to Hugh R. Potts on Wednesday, were cancelled because of an accident to Miss McAnerney's brother, Preston, at Tuxedo; but the marriage will take place on Nov. 12 as planned. Mr. John McAnerney said yesterday that his son Preston's injuries were not dangerous and that the boy was doing well.
